BUILDS FINE SANITARIUM.

Benefits of a Fixed Aim in Life Seen
In Constructive Work of Ambitious Race Leader, Who Knows How to Get Results—Well Educated and Influential.

Hot Springs, Ark.—The Knights of Pythias are indebted to Dr. Claude M. Wade for the Pythian sanitarium in this town, which was destroyed by fire about a year ago and which is now being rebuilt. Dr. Wade is in the front rank of active Pythians in this country and is to be found in everything that means the development and uplift of the race.

He is a native of Huntsville, Ala., in which city he was born back in the early sixties. He laid the foundation for a successful career in the Rust Institute of Huntsville and at Clark university. It was in Clark university, Atlanta, Ga., where Dr. Wade took his college course. He was not satisfied with this, but felt that he could be of better service to humanity by taking up a profession.

He entered the Meharry Medical college at Nashville, Tenn., in the dental department. He was an exceptional student and finished the course in 1888 with honors. But this was not enough, for in 1891 he graduated from the Louisville Medical college with the degree of M. D.

His first work was done in Kentucky. He remained there a few years and decided to go to Arkansas, locating at the greatest health resort in the world, Hot Springs. He was not in this city long before his medical skill and ability were discovered by the people, and his practice began to increase.

He enjoys today a large practice, and people have come to him from all parts of the country.

To serve his race has been one of Dr. Wade's chief desires, hence he is found in every organization which is working in that direction. In every fraternal organization his effort has been to have them do something tangible for mankind. He declares that it is not enough to pay a little weekly sick stipend and bury the dead, but the living should be looked after and life prolonged.

When a few years ago, he approached the Knights of Pythias with a proposition to purchase a bath house and sanitarium, the idea was condemned by many. Dr. Wade did not give up, but pushed his claim until he got the co-operation of the Supreme Lodge of Knights of Pythias. The movement was deemed a wise one and the sanitarium was purchased and put in operation. It was helpful to thousands of Pythians and the general public until destroyed by fire.

It was decided to rebuild the structure and the work is now going on and when the sanitarium is completed it will be one of the finest of its kind in the country and the only one operated by our race. It is the only place where our people can go to in Hot Springs and get the benefit of the wonderful water. They are admitted to the government bath house, but it is necessary, for one to be admitted, to say that he is poor and not able to pay for the baths.

Dr. Wade enjoys a lucrative practice, and has worked his way to the front. He is a factor in the Supreme Lodge of Knights of Pythias, and enjoys a wide reputation as a physician.

Knights of Pythias State Encampment.
The state encampment of the Knights of Pythias of Pennsylvania held at Williamsport, Pa., from Sunday, July 20, to Friday, July 31, inclusive, was largely attended by members of the order from all parts of the state. The uniform rank was very conspicuous. The camp under the general supervision of Brigadier General Frank Sutton and staff was conducted along strictly military lines. The Pittsburgh delegation with members of the Courts of Calanthe made the trip to Williamsport in a special train. Grand Chancellor B. G. Collier of Philadelphia has made a splendid record during his incumbency of that office. The supreme lodge and national encampment of the order will be held at Columbus, O., in 1915.

ALL READY FOR NATIONAL NEGRO PRESS ASSOCIATION

Program For the Muskogee (Okla.)
Meeting Includes Many Topics.

The program for the annual meeting of the National Negro Press association to be held at Muskogee, Okla., Aug. 17-18, the speakers and their subjects will be in part as follows: Monday, Aug. 17, 8:30 a. m., meeting of the executive committee. At 10 o'clock President John H. Murphy will call the association to order and Corresponding Secretary Henry Allen Boyd will read the call for the annual meeting.

Addressees of welcome will be delivered on behalf of the press of Oklahoma by L. A. Bell, editor of the Waggoner (Okla.) American; for the press of Muskogee, E. A. Wilson, editor of the Visitor; on behalf of the legal profession, Editor H. W. Twine of the Muskogee Cimeter; for the religious denominations, Rev. R. W. Perrin, and on behalf of the business men of the city, T. J. Elliott. Responses to the addresses of welcome will be made by W. E. King, editor of the Dallas (Tex.) Express; B. J. Davis, editor, Atlanta (Ga.) Independent; and John L. Thompson, editor of the Iowa State Bystander.

Subjects and speakers for the afternoon session are "Reciprocal News Service." This subject will be discussed by Joseph A. Booker, editor of the Vanguard, Little Rock, Ark., and Harrison M. Gilliland of the Chisholm News Service, Denison, Tex. "Telegraphic News Service," P. B. Young, editor Journal and Guide, Norfolk, Va., and R. L. Smith, editor Helping Hand, Waco, Tex. "Needed Improvement For Our Newspapers," David T. Shelton, editor New Idea, Galveston, Tex.; Dr. R. A. Williams, editor the Royal Messenger, Helena, Ark. "The Newspaper As a Sentiment Molder," J. E. Mitchell, editor the Argus, St. Louis, Mo., and H. W. Twine, editor of the Muskogee Scimitar. "Operating a Newspaper in the West," Charles Sumner Smith, editor Twin City Star, Minneapolis, Minn., and T. F. Mahamunt, editor the Enterprise, Omaha, Neb. At the evening session Dr. R. E. Jones, editor of the Southwestern Christian Advocate, will deliver a special address on what constitutes a newspaper.

Tuesday's program will open with a discussion of newspaper circulation as a stimulant to advertisers. Editors B. J. Davis, George L. Knox and H. A. Clark will be the speakers. "The Newspaper Business Twenty-five Years Ago and Now," William H. Steward of the American Baptist, Louisville, Ky.; C. J. Perry, Philadelphia Tribune. "The Outlook of the National Negro Press Association," R. W. Thompson, Washington. The report of the committees on revision of the constitution and code system will close the morning program.

Afternoon Session.—"Obstacles That Confront the Negro in the Newspaper Business" will be discussed by S. P. Debrow, editor of the Searchlight, Seattle, Wash.; George C. Noble, City Times, Galveston, Tex., and William Haynes, editor of the Herald, Austin, Tex.

"How Can We Induce Colored People to Read Journals Published by the Race in Larger Numbers," Theodore Baughman, editor of the Plaindealer, Palestine, Tex.; D. A. Hart, editor of the Nashville (Tenn.) Globe, and W. E. King, editor of the Central Afro-American, St. Louis. "The Ups and Downs of a Newspaper Correspondent," Charles Stewart, Chicago; Miss Elizabeth Jones, Pittsburgh. "Making the Newspaper Attractive," M. J. Chisum, editor of the Colored Man, Baltimore.

In the evening W. E. King of Dallas, Tex., and A. E. Manning of Indianapolis, Ind., will discuss objectionable reading matter in our papers.

The Alabama Dixie Line Railroad.
The progress of the colored people of Alabama is attracting a deal of attention since the news of the Dixie Line railroad was given to the public. This railroad runs from Kowalaga, a thrifty town in the state, to Alexander City in the eastern part of the state, and is the first to be built and operated by our race in America. The Dixie Line connects with the Central Georgia railroad at Alexander City, Ala.

Knights of Pythias Start New Lodge.
The Knights of Pythias of Georgia are steadily increasing in numbers, influence and usefulness as a secret order. Grand Chancellor Bolen recently set apart a new lodge in Arcadia, Ga., with twenty-one members. Endowment Secretary F. M. Cohen and other members of the order from Savannah assisted the grand chancellor in setting up the new lodge, which bears the name Dorchester.

THE AMERICAN BLACK ARCADIA

Recent Visitor Gives Boley, Okla., a New Title.

GOVERNED BY CAPABLE MEN

Authentic Account of Advancement
Made by the People of Large and Wealthy Municipality in the Far
Southwest—Once Trackless Plain
Becomes Great Center of Industry.

By RALPH W. TYLER.

There is a popular belief existing, which I, too, shared before my recent visit to Boley, Okla., that Boley is but a mere settlement of incapable imitators, ignorant lawmakers, like some who obtruded themselves into public office in the south during the reconstruction period; that a few log huts and makeshift houses and stores, that are stores only in name, constitute Boley; that the municipal government is a farce comedy, and that "modern" is a word as foreign here as phonetics to a Brazilian monkey that quenches his thirst in Colonel Roosevelt's river of Doubt.

The town is well illuminated by electric lights furnished by the city's modern electric light and power plant; the main street, in its entire length, has granolithic sidewalks; the stores are substantially built, well stocked and orderly conducted; the church edifices are very creditable indeed, and the town's bank building and Masonic temple are the equal of any town with three times its population, both being brick, the Masonic temple being a $35,000 structure. Boley is a modern town.

The public school building is a perfectly modern, two story, eight room brick of chaste design. In addition to it there is a good denominational school. Nineteen teachers are employed to instruct a registered 890 Negro pupils. Eight churches conserve the religious interests of the town, two Baptist and one each of the following denominations: A. M. E., C. M. E., M. E., Congregational, Catholic and Church of God. The people of Boley subscribe for 2,100 monthly publications, 1,800 weekly publications and 150 daily publications. This number of publications subscribed for by a community of 2,500 souls indicates that Boley is a reading community that means to keep informed regarding what is current in the great outside world. The town maintains seven physicians, two dentists, six lawyers and fifty-one merchants, the latter having over $400,000 invested in their businesses. The town has a federal form of government.

On arriving at this town, and I ought to dignify it with the title of city because of the highly intelligent manner in which its laws and ordinances are administered, the visitor alights at a railroad station whose station master, ticket agent, express agent, telegraph operator and "baggage smasher" are all men collared by the census bureau at Washington as Negroes. One finds here the well conducted hotel is presided over by a member of the race; that the telephone exchange is a Negro institution; that the electric light and power plant is wholly in the hands of Negroes.

There is no race discrimination in Boley. Although the city is an exclusively Negro owned and populated town, when a white man puts in an appearance at Boley, as is frequently the case, on business errands, he is not subjected to the discrimination and revolting segregation to which Negroes are so frequently subjected in white governed communities. In this Negro town a white man is accorded that generous hospitality which must impress him with the Negro's sincere desire to return good for evil.

Captivated by the harmony existing here, observing the progress being made, I could not help recalling Oliver Goldsmith's lines:

Hope, like the gleaming taper's light
Adorns and cheers the way
And still, as darker grows the night,
Emits a brighter ray.

There are many things, and frequent discouraging happenings to incline those of us with less sturdy hearts to the belief that, for the race, "darker grows the night." But when we turn our eyes to Boley, Okla., to Mound Bayou, Miss., and a dozen other exclusively Negro towns "where peace and smiling plenty reign," in which is the proof of Negro co-operation and capacity for self government we are made conscious of the fact that "Hope, like the gleaming taper's light, adorns and cheers the way."

As Plymouth Rock, where the Pilgrim fathers landed, was a wild, bleak, uninviting spot, save for the hope it offered for freedom of thought and action, so Boley, only a dozen years ago, was but a virgin forest, a trackless plain, an unpeopled region that offered no welcome save to those who desired to establish upon the south's immutable prejudice the fact that "white or black, 2 man's a man for all or that," that the Negro can co-operate and harmonize, and that he has the intelligent capacity for self government. For the Negro race, in its desire to establish proof of its capacity for self government, Boley is the hope that "adorns and cheers the way." Boley, the "Million Dollar Black City," is magnificent in its proof of race progress and capacity for self government.

HONORED IN NATIVE TOWN.

How Dr. S. L. Edwards Delights to Serve His Home Folks.

Anderson, S. C.—The number of professional men of our race who, after obtaining their education, locate in their native homes to pursue their profession, as a rule is few. This is, however, not true of Dr. S. L. Edwards of this city, who was born and reared here and has his place of business only a few blocks from the house in which he was born. The general public points with pride to the fact that unlike many persons of prominence he is contented to live and do business among the people of his boyhood days, by whom he is honored and highly respected.

After completing the public school course in this city Dr. Edwards pursued a course of study at Knox Institute, Athens, Ga., and then entered the dental department of Meharry Medical college at Nashville, Tenn., where his ability was so pronounced that he was made a member of the dental faculty. As a professor in that department he raised it to a standard, that has made it the envy of other dental schools.

In 1909 Dr. Edwards appeared before the state board of dental examiners of South Carolina and had the distinction of passing with the highest average made that year. As a very young man Dr. Edwards always seemed to be fired with the determination to be something, and to do something for the race with which he is identified. The success that he has achieved in his chosen profession demonstrates that he has not swerved from his original determination. He was married Nov. 16, 1910, to Miss Zedie M. Chancellor.

He is a regular attendant at the meetings of the National Medical association, and his papers and discussions are always listened to with marked attention, because his practical experience has fitted him to speak with authority. On most occasions when he is visiting the state association meetings, and the annual meetings of the National Medical association, he is accompanied by Mrs. Edwards, who is greatly interested in these organizations and the part which Dr. Edwards takes in helping to make the program of the sessions attractive and instructive. The membership of the association is increasing, and public interest in its annual meetings is widely felt.

WELL MANAGED LIBRARIES.

High Standard Set By Thomas F. Blue in Louisville, Ky.

The work of the eastern and western branches free public libraries for colored people in Louisville, Ky., is conducted by Librarian Thomas F. Blue along the most approved business lines.

The library staff consists of five persons, with three trained substitutes. The library conducts an apprentice class for those desiring to enter library service. Applicants must have a high school education or its equivalent and pass an examination to enter this apprentice class. The class puts in three months' actual work in the library in all departments before students are placed on the eligible list for positions on the staff.

The work of the colored branch libraries of Louisville, Ky., is unique, and until recently there was nothing like it elsewhere. Assistants preparing for library work with colored people have been sent to Louisville from other cities for training. Louisville is to be congratulated on what she has done for the advancement of the colored people through library work, and Mr. Blue on the splendid manner in which he has carried out the policies of the librarian.

PATCHING UP THE LAW IN ALABAMA

Bar Association at Birmingham
Tackles Hard Task.

NEED OF LAW ENFORCEMENT

Discrimination in the Administration of the State Law on Account of Condition and Color Gives Rise to Unusual Action on the Part of Southern Jurists.

While the Bar association at Birmingham, Ala., is working hard on ways and means to revise the court procedure whereby standards for practicing attorneys will be raised and technicalities and financial, political and social influence as an obstruction to law enforcement reduced to a minimum, two cases are causing widespread comment and an increased sentiment for judicial reform, says the New York Evening Post in a recent issue. One is the case of an obscure Negro, who was sentenced to fifty years in the penitentiary for robbing a fellow workman of 50 cents and was paroled by the governor because of ill health after serving twenty years.

In striking contrast is the case of a highly educated and widely connected aristocrat who, in the capacity of a trusted official, robbed the state of $100,000, was sentenced to ten years in the penitentiary, took an appeal and, after six months, has not yet been committed to state prison.

This contrast in its effect upon the public thought and demand for more equitable law enforcement is strengthened by the case of another Negro, who, upon purely circumstantial evidence, has been sentenced by a county jury five times to the gallows during a legal fight covering a period of four years, had his verdicts reversed and remanded three times by the supreme court and is awaiting execution under a fourth ruling of the higher tribunal.

Twenty years ago Frank Williams, an illiterate and poverty-stricken Negro working on the road, robbed a fellow workman of 50 cents. A Hale county jury sentenced Williams to fifty years in the penitentiary. He made an excellent prisoner, having been a trusty for eighteen years. His health gave way, and one of the judges of the supreme court recommended that he be paroled. This was recently ordered by the governor after twenty years of the half a century sentence was served. Williams is now sixty-five years old and very feeble.

Theodore Lacy, formerly chief clerk of the state convict bureau, who handled $2,000,000 a year of the state's revenue derived from the system of leasing convicts to coal mines and turpentine camps, was sentenced to ten years in the penitentiary for stealing $100,000 of the state's funds. Lacy is a grandson of the late United States Senator Edmund W. Pettus of Alabama, of Confederate fame as a general and a political idol in Alabama.

For a while Lacy lived high. Everybody like him. His convivial temperament caused him to run short in his accounts. Then he collected $100,000 in cash from the Montgomery banks on checks signed by the president of the convict board, packed the money in suitcases and fled. For six months the state tried in vain to apprehend him and spent $10,000 in the work.

Suddenly one night Lacy rolled into Montgomery in a high power motorcar, surrendered to the sheriff and announced that he had returned to "face the music." When arraigned he pleaded that he had been promised a light sentence, possibly a pardon, if he would return and make a deal for restoration of the money. No part of it has ever been recovered. Lacy was visited in jail by a stream of prominent people and loaded down with floral tributes and table delicacies. After a sensational trial he was sentenced to ten years in the penitentiary, but an appeal to the supreme court has been pending for months, and so far he has not served a day.

The case of Ervin Pope, a Negro who was convicted of murdering a white man on the testimony of a blacksmith who declared the peculiar marks in the mud from the shoe of a mule coincided exactly with unusual dents he made in shoeing Pope's animal, is widely cited in contrast with Lacy's trial. Pope has been sentenced to death five times by the county court. Three times the supreme court reversed the verdicts, and once its own ruling, finally confirming the death sentence. Appeal proceedings are again pending, and the case is going over into its fifth year.

Contrasts between these cases representing obscurity and poverty as well as race on the one side and affluence and aristocratic family connections on the other have largely increased the force of public sentiment in its demands for revision of the court procedure of the state and more equitable and uniform systems of law enforcement. Some of the legal profession and politically active elements undertake to explain the marked difference between the case of Williams and that of Lacy on the ground that the former was given the fifty year sentence not because of the larceny of a paltry sum, but because the money was obtained through highway robbery, which is a hanging offense in Alabama.

MEETING OF INDEPENDENT POLITICAL LEAGUE SEPT. 7.

National Organization of Race Leaders
Will Meet in New York.

Plans for the seventh annual meeting of the National Independent Political League, Rev. Byron Gunner of Hillborn, N. Y., president, are maturing. New York city, the home of the league's present national organizer, Rev. R. C. Ransom, has been selected as the place of meeting for this national convention.

The league will hold it as a national conference of colored Americans to confer upon and devise ways and means upon the question of denial of citizenship rights and equal opportunity because of race and color. The fine new Bethel church will be the meeting place and the second week in September the time, probably the 7th and 8th, just prior to the national Baptist convention in Philadelphia, as many of the clergy are expected to attend.

The appeal is to every citizen of color, to churches and literary, civic or equal rights societies. Its sentiment is thus expressed:

"Out of the world's history of the struggle of races, nationalities and classes of mankind for freedom and equality have come the classic epigrams, 'Who would be free themselves first must strike the blow' and 'Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty.' Who in all the world need heed these slogans more than colored Americans, with disfranchisement, Jim Crowism and lynching in the south and denial of civil rights to a greater or less degree even in the north on the increase?"

"Surely organization of colored Americans for self defense and protection of their lives, liberties and rights is needed, and for this the National Independent Political League, formed in 1908, stands. Come one, come all, to the national conference at Bethel church, New York city, Sept. 7 and 8, and let churches, literary, civic and equal rights societies send delegates. For particulars address William Monroe Trotter, corresponding secretary, 49 Cornhill, Boston."

NATIONAL LEAGUE SOCIAL SCIENCE PRIZE WINNERS.

Miss Madree Penn and Maynard H.
Jones Win Awards.

New York.—The National League on Urban Conditions Among Negroes announces the award of the prizes offered in the social science scholarship contest recently held by the league. There were two prizes of $50 and $25 to be awarded to the students of three of the Negro colleges who made the best standing in examination in elementary economics, elementary sociology and who presented the best book review of Devine's "Misery and Its Causes."

The contestants answered ten questions in economics, five questions in sociology and presented a written review of the book. Students from the following colleges were in the contest: Virginia Union university, Howard university and Morehouse college.

The contest was open to students also from Talladega college, Talladega, Ala., and Paine college, Augusta, Ga., but no students from these two institutions entered the contest. All of these colleges are affiliated with the National league and are co-operating in the effort to develop social service training for Negro youth.

The first prize of $50 was awarded to Miss Madree Penn of Howard university, Washington, and the second prize of $25 to Maynard H. Jackson of Morehouse college, Atlanta, Ga.

The following named persons were the judges who awarded the prizes: Professor Jeremiah W. Jenks, New York university; Mrs. M. G. Worthington, New York School of Philanthropy, and Dr. George E. Haynes, Fisk university, director of the National League on Urban Conditions Among Negroes. Large interest has been manifested in the contest, and the friends of the two students who have been awarded the prizes are rejoicing in their success.

Where the Color Line Is Not Drawn.
Three colored men are members of the chamber of deputies in Paris. They are well educated and influential in the political affairs of their respective districts. M. Gratien Candace represents Guadeloupe. He is a scientist by profession. The other two deputies are from Senegal and Guadeloupe respectively.

Dr. Henry W. Furniss, Wife and Father
Cannot be Located by Relatives

Dr. Sumner A. Furniss received a telegram Thursday from Senator Kern at Washington, stating that cables had been sent in an effort to obtain information about his brother, H. W. Furniss, of Indianapolis, former minister to Hayti, and his father, Wm. H. Furniss, a local postoffice employe. It is believed that the two men and Dr. Furniss's wife, a German woman, to whom he was married in Brazil, several years ago, are in the heart of the war zone, as letters and postcards received by the family here stated that they had planned to leave Hamburg

Henry W. Furniss has been in Europe for the last six months and was planning to return home in September. The elder Furniss has been abroad for a month. In one of the letters received just before war was declared the writer spoke of having passed a fleet of English ships in the English Channel while on the way from Cherbourg to Germany.

Ever since the war began Dr. Furniss has been trying to locate his relatives without any success.

TRI-STATE ASSOCIATION

The meeting of Colored Physicians, Dentists and Pharmacists of the States of Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky in this city the 7th, 8th and 9th of next month for the purpose of organizing a Tri-State Association, is promising of a large attendance. Out of a membership of 124 in Kentucky at least 75 are expected. Ohio will have 50, while our own State will swell the total to 150.

The committee of local doctors, dentists and pharmacists with the as-stance of the citizens, are preparing to give the visitors a royal welcome. There will be among the visitors some of the most noted and skilled men in their line of the profession. Drs. Williams, of Chicago, Hunter, of Kentucky, and Warfield, of Washington, D. C., noted surgeons who will conduct clinics at the Lincoln and City Hospitals. There will also be a "round table" on internal medicine as diagnosed by some of the best specialists of the race.

The presence of such a large array of talent will be a compliment to our city. The citizens and patrons will rally to the support of the local committee and see that the reputation for Hoosier hospitality is maintained.

POULTRY PICKINGS.

If birds show signs of scaly legs during the hot weather either rub the shank with carbolic vaseline and sulphur or dip the leg to the knee in crude petroleum.

Go over the roosts occasionally during the summer with crude oil to kill any germs that may be present.

The presence of gapes in chicks indicates foul ground, and the broods should be moved at once to fresh ground.

Remember that the natural feed of fowl is largely grass and give the growing chicks especially all the grass pasture you can, and if that fails feed fresh lawn clippings, lettuce or rape.

Add a little sulphate of iron solution to the fowls' drinking water twice a week.

Keep the water pans clean by washing once a day with creolin solution to prevent the growth of spores and fill often with fresh water.

INDIAN RUNNER DUCKS

GOOD EGG LAYERS

Those who have raised other breeds of ducks with good success sometimes fall utterly with Indian Runners and complain of their being delicate, writes a correspondent of the Rural New Yorker. If a few rules are followed there is no trouble in raising a large per cent of the hatchlings. Of course it begins with the breeding stock. Select vigorous mature birds and mate those not akin, five ducks to one drake, and not too large a flock, so every one has a good chance at the feed and water. Let water be clean and shells kept before them always. Cracked corn is good for a night feed, especially in cold weather, but the main feed should be mash, never sloppy, but just to the Indian runner ducks are not market birds. They are called the Leghorn of the duck family and are well worth raising for egg production. However, they make fine meat and are much preferred by many to the larger breeds. A swimming pond is not necessary for them, but a bath once in awhile greatly improves their appearance and is much enjoyed.

crumbly state and consisting of equal parts wheat bran and cornmeal, one-fourth the bulk alfalfa meal, one-fifth beef scrap and 1 per cent oilmeal.

Confine them in a house or small yard at night, and do not let them go before 10 a. m., when all eggs will be laid and can be gathered, washed and put in the cellar. Duck eggs spoil very quickly and must be kept cool. If to be used for hatching turn every day, and do not keep them over a week if a good hatch is expected. Indian Runners are excellent layers. If fed for it they will begin at four and one-half months old and lay steadily a good part of the year.

The eggs bring as much as or more than fancy white hens' eggs in the city market. Duck eggs require much moisture during incubation. If placed under a hen dip in warm water every fourth day and the twenty-eighth day wet nest thoroughly. If in incubator sprinkle with warm water every other day. Ducklings pip the shell and then lie idle twenty-four hours or longer before coming out. When taken from the incubator place in a warm brooder or in a covered box in a warm room and never let them chill. If hatched with a hen do not let her raise them; she will kill more than she saves.

The first feed, given four or five times a day, is equal parts dry bread and oat flake moistened with warm water. After three days omit bread and substitute equal parts bran and cornmeal. After three days more give the same feed as to laying ducks, except that 1 per cent grit is added. Warm water is given with each feed in very shallow dishes. Hot sun, wind and wet are fatal. Ducks grow rapidly and get their second feathers at about twelve weeks. Weight is about three pounds at ten weeks, and all culs and surplus drakes can be marketed at that time.

Care of Poultry.

A very little thing will make all the difference between success and failure in the poultry business, and in either case the cause is generally with the poultryman and not with the breed of chickens he keeps. There is more in the feed than in the breed, and there is more in the proper care of fowls than the breed and feed both together.

Thread Holder That Prevents Tangles and Soiling.

The thread holder herewith pictured is the invention of a woman and is designed to aid the knit or lace worker. Ordinarily the spool of crocheted thread is in constant danger of falling to the floor and unwinding in a most provoking manner. Here is a little device built on the principle of the safety pin by which the spool of thread is secured to the person of the knitter at some convenient place. It may be on the clothing or fastened in the pocket of an apron, where it may be drawn upon as desired and at the same time is protected from soil.

Kitchen Pointers.

A little flour dredged over a cake will prevent the frosting from running before it hardens.

Melted alum will mend your glass pieces so the break will not show. Picture wires are better to fasten sash curtains with than tape.

The unbeaten white of an egg, added to thin cream, will enable one to whip the cream successfully.

A teaspoonful of tartaric acid in a pint bottle of water will remove stains from the hands and will also remove stains from white goods.

Aspic Jelly.

Calf's foot, veal bones, rind of bacon, two carrots, two onions, thyme, parsley, a bay leaf and a glass of sherry. Place the carrots, onion, thyme, parsley and bay leaf in a saucepan, with the bones, rind and calf's foot cut into pieces and well washed, cover with water, add salt and pepper and let it boil tightly closed for six or seven hours. Add the sherry. Strain it, let it cool and skim the fat. Boil again with a couple of whites of eggs to clarify.

Chocolate Ice Cream.

Place a pint of milk, seven heaping tablespoonsful of sugar, and four squares of baking chocolate in a double boiler and cook until the chocolate has melted and the mixture is smooth. Chill, turn into the freezer and turn the dasher until the mixture is frozen to the consistency of mush. Take out the dasher, add a pint of whipped cream and a small tablespoonful of vanilla. Beat vigorously, repack and stand for two hours to mellow.

Codfish With Egg Sauce.

Take one pound of salt codfish, boil it and remove the skin and bones. Then fry lightly in butter, adding chopped up parsley, salt and pepper. Stir about constantly and add from time to time a little boiling water until the fish is thoroughly cooked. Then beat up the yolks of two eggs and add them with a little flour and cook for a few moments more. Squeeze on some lemon juice and serve.

Baked Squash.

Cut the squash in good sized pieces, remove seeds, but do not peel, lay in a dripping pan with a very little water in the bottom and bake one and a half to two hours, or until soft. Scrape the flesh from the skin or shell, mash and add a few spoonfuls of cream or butter, salt and pepper to taste and a bit of sugar. Serve very hot.

French Ice Cream.

In a double boiler scald one pint of milk, beat together five eggs and one cupful of sugar and stir slowly into the scalded milk. When it thickens, strain and set away to cool. Beat one pint of cream to a froth, add to the chilled custard with two tablespoonsful of vanilla and freeze.

Green Sauce.

Boil a handful of spinach and squeeze the juice from the leaves through a fine cloth into a bowl. Add this green water to a mayonnaise sauce with some chopped tarragon, chives, parsley and shallots. Serve with cold boiled salmon or salmon trout.

Washing Bedspreads.

Instead of putting a bedspread through the wringer, hang it on the line dripping wet. It will dry without a crease, will not require ironing and the fringe will be as fluffy as when new.

Walnut Wafers.

Roll chilled pie crust very thin, strew ground walnuts and a fine sifting of salt over and press down with rolling pin, then cut into small strips or diamonds and bake in hot oven.

PURDUE INSTRUCTORS AT STATE FAIR

A CORNER OF PURDUE'S EDUCATIONAL EXHIBIT.

Much of the educational strength of Purdue University will be directed to farm men and women who attend the Indiana State Fair the week of Sept. 7. Prof. G. I. Christie of the Purdue Agricultural Extension Department, promising that what will be offered through Purdue at the fair will in itself be well worth the time and money it will cost people from the farm to attend the exposition. The farm visitors are especially asked to prepare themselves before hand by making out lists of questions on farm subjects on which they desire enlightenment and ask the Purdue instructors, about twenty of whom will be at the fair, when they reach the exposition. Last year about 20,000 farm people went to the Purdue building at the fair and during the week the instructors probably answered 100,000 questions along all lines of Hoosier farming.

In addition to this kind of information which the Purdue experts will give, the University will have several tons of its best exhibition material at the fair, all spread out in displays which farm people will readily understand and profit from. Every line of farming, breeding and home economics in which Hoosier farm people are interested will be covered by the Purdue experts and the displays, and thousands of farm folks will have opportunity to make "short cuts" toward the solution of questions which will help in advancing development of home affairs.

"Purdue University will co-operate with the State Board of Agriculture as far as State Fair facilities and Purdue funds will permit in making the coming fair of great educational worth to farm people," said Prof. Christie. "The fair offers opportunity to absorb much information and inspiration along the line of better farming and better rural life that will have immeasurable worth to Indiana farm people."

HIGH AIM OF W. P. TERRELL

College Career and Educational Work of a Native Fort Worth (Tex.) Boy. Prairie View, Tex.—The State Normal and Industrial college located here and bearing the name of this town, numbers among the members of its able faculty a young man who has gained distinction in his special line of work. W. P. Terrell is the professor of mechanics and superintendent of the mechanical department at the Prairie View college, and is well fitted for the position.

He was born at Fort Worth, in this state, thirty years ago. His father has been principal of the Fort Worth high school for colored people for the past thirty-two years. Professor Terrell's grandfather was the late Alexander Terrell, a prominent deacon in the Baptist church at Anderson, Tex., and widely known for his many excellent traits of character. His maternal grandfather was Dr. Pierre Landry of New Orleans, La., and was one time mayor of Donaldsonville, La., and a state senator.

Young Mr. Terrell set his aim high. After completing the high school course in 1901, young Mr. Terrell entered the Kansas State Agricultural college at Manhattan, Kan., where he took the course in mechanical engineering and graduated in 1904 as the salutatorian of his class, and also received the degree of bachelor of science. He was very popular as a student and a member of the Webster Literary society of the college, and was captain of the school battalion.

In the fall of 1904 Professor Terrell entered the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, where he graduated two years later in mechanical engineering. Before coming here Mr. Terrell was a machinist helper for the Texas and Pacific company in Fort Worth, timekeeper for the Holbrook, Cabot and Rollins corporation in Boston, and also served the Hydroelectric Installation company at Sewall Falls, Concord, N. H. This latter company built the Charles river dam at Boston. At Lynn, Mass., he was draftsman for the General Electric company. Mr. Terrell spent a year at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology studying structural engineering.

In addition to Professor Terrell's regular departmental work at the Prairie View college, he is responsible for all architectural and engineering repair work. The number of instructors in Professor Terrell's department has been doubled since he took charge and the work put upon a firm basis with the most approved modern methods. He is an associate member of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers and a member of the National Geographic society.

Richards Can't Compete.

The faculty committee on student affairs at Cornell refuses to sanction Alma Richards' participation in track athletics in any outside meet. Richards, who captured first high jump honors in the Olympic games at Stockholm in 1912, has received many invitations to compete in games in New York city and elsewhere. Richards is a freshman and will be allowed to compete only in meets in which Cornell's freshman team participates.

Obituary

The funeral of Harry Parker, who died July 31, was held at the Corinthian Baptist church Monday. Mr. Parker was 27 years old and had made his home with Mr. and Mrs. Allen in Dorman street for twelve years. For the past six years he had been an untiring worker in all departments of the church. He was a victim of tuberculosis. Rev. G. A. Martin conducted the funeral services.

The funeral of Mabel S. Henderson daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Henderson was held from the residence in Alvord street Wednesday. Rev. D. P. Roberts conducted the services.

The funeral of Charles Gilchrist was held from the home of his mother in West Thirteenth street Wednesday.

The funeral of John Stewart, whose death occurred Tuesday, after a long illness, was held Thursday at South Cavalry Baptist church.

CARD OF THANKS.

I wish to thank my many friends for their kindness shown me during the illness and death of my boy, Harry H. Parker, especially Mr. A. G. Snyder, the employees of the Hide and Leather Belting Co., Rev. G. A. Martin for his consoling words, the Semper Fidelis Club and also Undertaker C. M. C. Willis for his prompt attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Allen and Aunts Mrs. Robert Davis and Mrs. Anna Board.

NEW DORMITORY FOR BOYS.

James Hall Most Recent Addition to Student Quarters at Hampton.

Dr. Hollis B. Frissell, principal of the Hampton (Va.) institute, delivered the chief address at the recent laying of the cornerstone of James hall, the new dormitory for boys. The money for the dormitory was given by Mrs. D. Willis James of New York city, widow of the late D. Willis James, a well known philanthropic merchant prince. Mr. James himself was a devoted friend of Hampton institute. Arthur Curtiss James, the son of Mr. D. Willis James, is a trustee of Hampton.

Dr. Frissell called attention to the love for Hampton which had been handed from father to son and which was now to find new expression in a modern four story brick, fireproof dormitory, which will accommodate about 175 boys. "James hall will be," to quote Dr. Frissell, "a school for Christian civilization." Here Hampton students will live lives of cleanliness and order. They will be taught the laws of health and will be helped in many other ways.

The ceremonies included the singing of General Armstrong's favorite hymn, "How Firm a Foundation," which was led by Major R. R. Moton, Hampton's commandant; prayer by Rev. Laurence Fenninger, associate chaplain at the school; address by William M. Reid, '77, president of the Alumni association, and by Sarah C. Fernandis, who has been of great help to her people, and benediction by Rev. A. A. Graham of Zion church, Phoenix, Va.

William M. Reid, the well known lawyer of Norfolk, Va., was invited by Dr. Frissell to speak on behalf of the graduates of Hampton, who had assembled to celebrate "alumni day." Mr. Reid said that Hampton illustrated the idea of a continuous growth and referred to its leadership in some important movements. He declared that the Hampton alumni have begun to realize that they are of value to their alma mater and that Hampton's friends will continue their loyal support in proportion to the good work that the graduates do.

Mrs. Fernandis of Baltimore referred to the evolution of Hampton from the days when some of the boys had to sleep in tents. She said that the laying of the cornerstone of James hall opens a new vista of hope for Hampton and the colored race.

"BUNGALOO" TACTICS AGAIN IN VOGUE AT RIVERSIDE

Colored Citizens Ordered to Leave Park at 9 p. m., by White Ruffians—Denied Some Privileges and Often Rebuked and Assaulted. Formal Protest to be Made to Mayor Bell by Citizens

To the Editor of The Recorder:

It is deplorable to think that the "Life Harmony" of the races which was once claimed for the metropolis of Indiana, is gradually giving way to the strife, prejudice and malediction of men who do not understand that the high standing of Indianapolis is largely to be measured by the discipline and moral behavior of all of its citizens. The following outrage, the repetition of a like disgrace that happened once before, which occurred a short time ago on Sunday evening at Riverside Park, exemplifies the low spirit that dwells in the hearts of some of those who must live together and be governed by a common law.

Sunday before last thousands of pleasure seekers, all bent apparently on having an enjoyable evening watching and patronizing the many beautiful attractions, strolled up and down the passageways of the park. A few colored people helped to compose the great number. Already I had been observing the conduct of the members of my race and had complimented their behavior and appreciation for the city privileges. They were clean and quiet; they had respect for the rights of others; they spent their money. No dreams had they, I am sure I did not have, that nine o'clock was the time set for colored people to vacate the park and that a gang of white ruffians were to give such notices with threats of punishment if we failed to comply with their wishes.

At the hour named the ruffians began their repulsion; ladies unattended young men with lady company married couples and all were driven from the park. No resistance was made. Resistance it appeared would have resulted in the beating up of the colored people for they were not clustered.

Riverside Park I understand is a City Park and I doubt very much if the line is drawn on the Colored tax money which goes to help maintain the park. Some have said that politicians have something to do with the affair. The same outrage has happened under both the Republican and Democratic administrations. This leads us to think that such evils are not generated by any specific party. Good government however should see to it that such practices are discontinued.

Fred W. Donahue.

AROUND THE CHURCHES

A Week's Happenings in Religious Circles

The Mt. Carmel Baptist church had a very successful rally on the fourth Sunday in July and was successful in raising enough money to pay off all indebtedness and enough also to beautify the church and make it a desirable place for worship. The church was divided into four clubs. No. 1, the Sunbeam Club, which was composed of children, Mrs. Lulu Broyles, captain, raised $139.37; No. 2, the Electric Spark, Mrs. J. O. Puryear, captain, $157.45; No. 3, the Pride of the North, Mrs. Lizzie English, captain, $149.55; No. 4, the Morning Glory, Mrs. Lydia Burnett, captain, $132.15. We are looking forward to dedicate the church to the Lord on the fourth Sunday in August and cordially invite the pastors and their congregations to be present to witness the dedication.

Go to Church Movement Will Have Wonderful Support In Rural Communities

ADVERTISING in the newspapers, securing the co-operation of the telephone companies, announcements at farmers' granges, unions and clubs are suggested as means to arouse interest in a GO TO CHURCH Sunday for rural workers. The Orange Judd Farmer says editorially:

"THE RURAL CHURCH HAS HAD ITS SHARE OF CRITICISM IN RECENT YEARS. SOME OF THE CRITICISM IS JUST, BUT MUCH OF IT IS SENSATIONAL AND UNJUST. THAT RURAL CHURCHES ARE A VITAL PART OF EVERY RURAL COMMUNITY THERE CAN BE NO QUESTION. WITHOUT THEM COUNTRY LIFE WOULD GO TO RUIN AND DESTRUCTION, AND THIS ASIDE FROM RELIGION. TO SAVE COUNTRY LIFE, THEN, WE MUST SAVE THE RURAL CHURCH, AND TO SAVE THE RURAL CHURCH WE, AS INDIVIDUALS, MUST DO OUR PART IN PERSONAL DEVOTION AND ATTENDANCE.

"The problem now before us is this: What can we as farmers do to promote this movement and accelerate the churchgoing custom of olden days? The answer is simple. Go to church ourselves, ask our neighbors to do likewise and ask minister or priest to join in welcoming everybody of the community."

To make a great success of this affair it will be necessary for each and every one to see his pastor, tell him of the plan, get his co-operation and then get generally busy. Let it be known in every church in this broad land—from Pacific to Atlantic, from the lakes to the gulf—that special services will be arranged and an effort made to have every person in the community attend church.

ASK THE LOCAL TELEPHONE OPERATOR TO NOTIFY ALL SUBSCRIBERS OF THE TELEPHONE LINES. BY WORD OF MOUTH, BY ANNOUNCEMENTS FROM THE PULPIT, BY NOTICES IN THE GRANGES, CLUBS AND SCHOOLS LET THE NOTICE GO OUT THAT THERE IS A GO TO CHURCH MOVEMENT THROUGHOUT THE COUNTRYSIDE.

SUNDAY SCHOOL.

Lesson VI.—Third Quarter, For Aug. 9, 1914.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Mark xi, 12-26. Memory Verses, 22, 23—Golden Text, Matt. vii, 20—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

Having spent the night at Bethany, they returned on the morrow to Jerusalem. Probably they returned early in the morning, and He at least seems to have had no morning meal, for He was hungry. See His real humanity in that He hungered, thirsted, was weary, wept (John iv, 6; xi, 35). See His humility in that He consented to be thus dependent upon others on this earth, which He Himself had made. Though He was rich, for our sakes He became poor that we through His poverty might be forever rich (John i, 10, 11; II Cor. viii, 9). He was no doubt literally hungry, but as there was meat of which His disciples knew not (John iv, 32), so there were a hunger and thirst of which they knew not. He hungered for fruit from Israel, who proved to be an empty vine, bringing forth fruit unto himself; a bad vine, bearing only wild grapes (Hos. x).

This lesson is recorded in Matthew and Luke, as well as in Mark, or at least part of it. Matthew says that He saw a fig tree in the way, and Mark says that He saw it afar off. Both phrases are suggestive of the facts that, while Israel professed to be in the way, she was really afar off. Having leaves was a profession of fruit bearing; His finding nothing but leaves was disappointing barrenness. The parable of the fig tree in Luke xiii, 6-9, shows His patience with His fig tree.

His saying in Matt. vii, 16, teaches that it requires a real fig tree to bear figs. The first reference to fig leaves in the Bible shows man's vain effort to substitute something instead of the beautiful garments of light which he had lost (Gen. iii, 7), while the reference in Hab. iii, 17, 18, shows that, though all that is of nature should fail, yet we may find real cause of rejoicing in the Lord Himself. Young translates "forever" (verse 14) to "the age," and we know that, while Israel as a nation has borne no fruit since she rejected Christ, the time is coming when "Israel shall blossom and bud and fill the face of the world with fruit" (Isa. xxvii, 6). He came to Jerusalem and went into the temple and began to cleanse it, as He had done at the beginning of His ministry (John ii, 13-17). Jerusalem was the national center, and the temple was the spiritual center, as the heart is the vital center of our being, and true cleansing must be from the center outward. Man looketh on the outward appearance, but the Lord looketh on the heart. He says: "I, the Lord, search the heart. I try the reins even to give every man according to his ways and according to the fruit of his doings" (I Sam. xvi, 7; Jer. xvii, 10). See a beautiful and appropriate prayer in Ps. cxxxix, 23, 24. In the cleansing in II John He accused them of making His Father's house a house of merchandise, while here He says that instead of its being a house of prayer they had made it a den of thieves (verse 17). The reference is to Isa. lvi, 7, "Mine house shall be called an house of prayer for all people," and to Jer. vii, 11, "Is this house which is called by my name become a den of robbers in your eyes?" The question is asked in Mal. iii, 8, "Will a man rob God?" And it is also answered. Instead of recognizing all things as given us by God to hold for Him and use as His stewards many are more apt to say: "Our lips (and all things) are our own. Who is lord over us?" (Ps. xli, 4). The only right attitude is that of David when he said, "All things come of Thee, and of Thine own have we given Thee" (I Chron. xxix, 14).

The temple was originally built for the Lord that He might dwell there in the midst of His people Israel and that all people of the earth might know Him and fear and serve Him (I Kings viii, 43-60), but now that the Lord had come to His own temple He was crowded out by business and self seeking. It is even so still in the churches, which are supposed to be for His worship, but from which He is excluded by many things and by worldly ways and in which there is often no room for Him. He is often, as in Rev. iii, 20, inquiring if any person will open his heart's door to Him, hardly expecting that a church will welcome Him.

The chief priests and scribes were increasingly determined to destroy Him because His teaching was so opposed to theirs. He taught daily in the temple and at night went out to the Mount of Olives, for there seemed to be no more of a home welcome for Him anywhere than there was in the temple (Luke xxi, 37; John vii, 53; vii, 1). It was and still is the same old story. "No room for Him" (Luke ii, 7). His thoughts and ways are so far above ours that in our low and unworthy way of looking at things we cannot seem to welcome Him as we should. In the morning as they returned to the city the disciples marveled to see the fig tree withered away. Then came His great word about a mountain being removed if we only had faith (verse 23; Matt. xxi, 21). Compare Matt. xvii, 20. Notice His "Have faith in God" and the "Have faith and doubt not" of Matthew and His "Whatsoever ye shall say" and "What things so ever ye desire" of lesson verses 23, 24.

SATURDAY NIGHT SERMONS

BY REV. SAMUEL W. PURVIS, D.D.

THE MAW OF THE MONSTER.

Text, "In perils in the city."—Cor. xi, 28.

The first city was built east of Eden in absolute rebellion against God by a murderer named Cain. The city he named Enoch. As a preacher I look my Bible through and I see city after city—always evil. Always is the city recorded as the hotbed of crime and sin, the place where young life is sold and damned. As a journalist, lecturer and traveler I look outside my Bible, view the Christian centuries and the same apparently holds true, from the city which Cain built to New York, Chicago and San Francisco.

Men seem always wanting to build cities. Possibly that gregarious instinct is a true one. God makes the country; man builds the city. God put him first in a garden; not long till he is a vagabond and builds a city. The city is fascinating because of its human interest. Its atmosphere is far-reaching. Beyond its smoky horizon the moral breath of a great center of population is carried by currents created by newspaper, magazine and personal contact. An odor, sweet or foul, is carried on the wings of the wind to village and farm. The country imitates the city as a younger lad an older. Mode of dress, variety of amusement, social custom is introduced largely by city to country.

The Maw of the Monster.

Were you raised in the country? Do you remember your first impressions? You saw houses instead of hills, streets instead of streams, men instead of meadows. You commented that the city grew nothing but men. You remember the unpleasant thrill when your city cousins said, "The soil of the city is not as fertile as that of the country, but it is better adapted to the sowing of wild oats." You tried to smile at his witticism, but it was forced. Human history repeats itself because it is human. The old Greek tradition of the doomed youths and maidens who were every year chosen by lot from the city of Athens to be sent as a tribute to the Minotaur, who devoured them, is living history today. The modern city pays its toll, and the toll is always in young and precious human lives, who must perish in the maw of the monster. The Minotaur, who asked only fourteen lives, was mercy itself compared with the maw of a modern metropolis. The city seems at times an insensate monster, ready to devour and crush all that life holds of sweetness and beauty. It seems to pound upon the hearts of men and women, making them as hard as the pavement they tread. It seems to turn existence into a struggle for survival, in which the wolfish eye, straining body and mind are ruled by a fierce passion to clutch a desperate advantage above the heads of the crowd. The law of the crowd is the law of the jungle, whereby the weak must run and hide or else be preyed upon. Might makes right, and no sense of kinship or neighborliness stands in the way of the domineering overlordship of the strong, occupying, unchallenged, the seats of the mighty.

The City Streets.

Men may sleep, but the city is sleepless. All night long there is an indeterminate roar and rumble, separate sounds fused and blended in one, swelling to a climax in early morning, dying again at sundown, never wholly still, like the sea's unending inquietude. To one in the mood it is only the City of the Dreadful Night, never the City of Beautiful Day. One murmurs:

Could I but wander
Home, away yonder,
Far from your fretting noises and heats,
Sweeter than olden
April dreams golden
Would be forgetting you, city streets!

The history of the street is the history of the day. Different in different hours as in different years. At 5 o'clock milk wagons rattle by; at 6:30 the humbler toilers hurry by with pale unrefreshed faces; at 8 the roar of traffic is trumpetlike. There is a rush and a clang of cars, and an army is pressing forward. At noon there is a lull; the multitude is feeding. At 3 rubber tires are where groaning wheels have been. Indolence, luxury and repose are on the way to river drive and park. At 6 the crowd, like a flood returned, surges through the street. The toilers are hurrying home.

The Great White Way.

Street crowd psychology is subtle. In that fierce struggle of the day one feels a lost sense of individuality, feels his personality not est, a leaf in a forest, a grain of sand by the shore, a drop in a great river, each hour increasing the sense of loneliness, helplessness and submergence, night changes all. Aladdin has rubbed his wondrous lamp. After dinner lights are blinking; theaters are gathering their devotees; glimpses of lace and jewels; beauty bares its breast to ravished eyes. Ostentation of wealth, bewildering in its profusion, staggering in its effrontery. Shop windows display products of commerce created by vanity and voluptuousness. That makes it impossible to distinguish women of fashion and women of the street. Wickedness is rampant, but well clad. Forbidden fruit is frankly forced forward. There is defilement of the bizarre and suggestive. That which shocks the simple scarcely jars the jaded. The monster is a serpent at night, sleek, shining, sinister. For a raw recruit the street between 6 and 12 is a Gettysburg or a Waterloo.

in Marion. Mrs. Kelley has returned to her home in Richmond after visiting a few days with friends. Mr. Will Stafford and Alonzo Outland were in Muncie Friday. Mr. and Mrs. Steward gave a party Saturday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Steward being the honored guests. The evening was spent in playing games. All enjoyed good time. Mrs. Ella Brown is visiting her mother, Mrs. Mazy Scott. Mrs. Susie Wade has returned to her home in Dayton. Mr. and Mrs. Rolf Fox and daughter, Bessie, spent Sunday evening with Mrs. Cass Scott. Mrs. John Cotton and children, Mrs. Dessa Nichols and her two nieces, Elsie and Catharine Outland, of Muncie, and Mr. Will Scott spent Sunday with Mrs. Albert Barrax. Mrs. Dessa Nichols is in Muncie for a couple of weeks.

BLOOMINGTON, IND.

Mrs. Anna Campbell, of Indianapolis, Ind., spent Sunday in the city. Mrs. S. Campbell, of Evanston, Ill., is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Hill, of West 7th street. Mrs. Lizzie M. Calley of Chicago, Ill., is visiting her brothers, Mr. Lee Johnson and Anderson Johnson, out on North Madison street. The seventeenth annual session of the Baptist Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary convention of Indiana is in session at the Second Baptist church here. Miss Carrie Mimmis, of Indianapolis, spent Sunday in the city. Mrs. Stewart, of Bloomfield, Ind., is the guest of her son on West 5th street. Mrs. R. M. Wray, of Crawfordsville, Ind., spent Sunday in the city. Rev. Amiger, president of the State University of Louisville, Ky., was the guest of Rev. and Mrs. Porter.

JEFFERSONVILLE, IND.

Mrs. Margaret Owens Middleton, of Indianapolis, is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Owens, in Missouri avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Spinks, of Indianapolis, are guests of her mother, Mrs. Fannie Gramison, in Indiana avenue. Mr. and Mrs. George Spinks and Mrs. Margaret Owens Middleton returned to Birmingham, Ala., to be the guests of Mrs. Spinks' mother for a few days, after which they will return to Jeffersonville and camp for a short time. Mr. Bezel Moss, of St. Louis, is expected in a few days to be the guest of Mrs. Sallie Adams. Miss Arizona Thomas entertained several of her friends on Silver Hills at a private picnic Saturday. The out-of-town guests were Miss L. Jackson, of Lexington, Miss L. Stauss, Misses Susie and Kathryn Williams, Mr. Thomas Evans and Quigley Parker, of Louisville, Ky., and Mr. Jas. Marshall, of Indianapolis. Rev. W. L. Green and Rev. Higdon have gone to Bloomington, Ind., to attend the Indiana Baptist Association. Mrs. W. L. Green, Mrs. Frances Hogan and Miss Blanche Barker have gone to Bloomington to attend the Women's Missionary convention. We are journeying to a place of which the Lord said, "I will give it to you." It will not be long, the journey is over. Each broken sigh and falling tear will soon be gone and all will be a cloudless sky, a waveless sea. Though sad we look on the closing eyes of those we love in days gone by, yet sweet in death their latest song, we'll meet again. It won't be long. Again the grin reappears. "Death" has saddened the hearts of many in this our community by calling from work to reward the beloved daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse James and wife of Mr. George Spears. Mary Birdie James Spears was born in Lebanon, Ky., thirty-two years ago. She became a member of Bethel A. M. E. church when eleven years old and was always a consistent Christian. She was married to George Spears in 1901 and to this union four children were born, of which three children survive. The last four years of her life she resided in Indianapolis. She was a member of Allen Chapel A. M. E. church in Indianapolis. Rev. J. H. Harvey, of Indianapolis, officiated at the service. Interment at the Eastern cemetery. Mr. George Spears and children will return to Indianapolis in a few days.

COLUMBUS, IND.

Mrs. Maggie McDonald, of Louisville, returned home Sunday after spending four weeks with relatives and friends. Clarence Thompson made a business trip to the city Tuesday. Mr. Richard Warfield returned home after spending three weeks at Lima, Ohio. Rev. Charles Chattam and wife spent three days with relatives and friends at Louisville, Ky. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sissle, of Indianapolis, visited friends Sunday. Mrs. Sarah Johnson returned home Saturday after spending three weeks with relatives and friends at West Point, Ky. She was accompanied by her son, George, of Boston, Ky. Mrs. Ethel Kirtpatrick left Sunday to visit her parents at Noland, Ky. Everett Anderson, of Lafayette, has returned home. The following persons attended the grand lodge of K. of P. at Shelbyville last week: Odus Johnson, Jennie Davis, Fannie Davis and Maud Hodge. Don't forget the corner-stone laying of the Second Baptist church August 23. The Masonic lodges from Seymour, Madison, Franklin, Columbus and one from the city are expected to lay the corner stone. A good program will be rendered. The public is invited. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Smith have moved from 1421 Union street to 1317 9th street. Minnie Goodwin, of Edinburg, was the week end guest of Miss E. Smith. Rev. Samuel Razor, of Kentucky, filled the pulpit at the A. M. E. church Sunday at 11 o'clock a. m. and at 8 p. m. The mass social given at the same church Wednesday evening was a success. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Richie have moved from 1429 Union street to 9th street. Miss Sadie A. Cox and little Jennie May Elzy, Louisville, Ky., returned home Thursday after spending several days with the former's sister, Mrs. G. C. Smith. Mrs. E. Gooch, from the city, spent Sunday with Rev. J. Smith and wife. Wm. Harris remains seriously ill.

CANBY, IND.

Mrs. Mayne Wright spent Tuesday with Mrs. Cynthia Bryant and family. Rev. and Mrs. Kirk and Mrs. Mary Kellar, of Plainfield, spent the weekend with friends at this place. Miss Beatrice and Master Colla Kellar, of Indianapolis, are spending two weeks with Emma and Charles Bryant. Mr. and Mrs. Otis Cullins, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Bryant and family and Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Helms and family camped on Lake Landers a few days last week. Miss Rosa Saunders, of Kentucky, is spending a week with her cousin, Mrs. Otis Cullins. Mr. Jeff Kellar and children took dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Bryant Sunday. Mr. Roscoe Hampton attended the alumni picnic at West Newton Thursday. Misses Emma Bryant and Beatrice Kellar spent Thursday with Mrs. James Anna Pinkston.

TERRE HAUTE, IND.

Darnes Lodge, No. 4, F. and A. M., met in regular session on Monday night. Benjamin Kennedy, W. M., Prince Hall Lodge No. 14, F. and A. M., will meet on next Monday night. David Jenkins, W. M., Bethlehem Chapter No. 6, Order of Eastern Star, met on Thursday evening. The services at the Free Will Baptist church last Sunday were interesting and well attended all day. Bro. Walter Hill, a young man aspiring for the ministry, preached in the morning. Subject: "Samson." Rev. McIntosh preached at night. Subject: "The Seven Last Plagues." The collections were very good. The Sabbath school and Christian Endeavor are progressing nicely under the leadership of Mr. Elijah Parks and Mrs. Donaldson. Mr. Henry Brown, a young man 25 years old, came to our city about two months ago from Gary, Ind. He was in poor health when he came, but tried to work for Mr. John R. Flippins, the contractor, for a short time, but had to quit. He was then sent to the hospital. He was soon pronounced incurable and came to Mrs. Fowkes and Mrs. Andersons to stay. He was then on the mercy of the people. Messrs. C. F. Stokes and John R. Phillips took it upon themselves to raise sufficient money to pay for his board, lodging and to send him to his parents' home in Mt. Airy, Md. Spruce street church gave $4.20, the Missionary Baptist church gave $3.20, the Free Will Baptist church gave $4.20; other donations from the general public sufficient to pay the above were raised and he was started home on last Tuesday night. We take this means of thanking all for their generosity in making it possible for Mr. Brown to go home to spend his few remaining days with his parents. The anniversary of Rev. C. M. C. Hammond's first year as pastor of the Second Missionary Baptist church, corner of 14th and Oak streets, was very fittingly observed on last Sunday by his members and all the associated pastors of other churches of the city. Dr. C. H. Parrish, who is without doubt one of the strongest preachers in this section of the country, came over from Louisville, Ky., where he has been pastor of one church for 29 years and assisted Rev. Hammond in making the day memorable in the history of the above named church. Rev. M. C. Anderson preached in the morning and Dr. Parrish preached in the afternoon and night. He also lectured on Monday night about his famous trip to the Holy Land and the Orient a few years ago. Quite a sum of money was raised on this occasion. Rev. C. M. Hammond has been granted a three weeks' vacation by his church in order to take a much needed rest. The services at Spruce street church were interesting and impressive on last Sunday all day. Mrs. Lena Myers was baptized in the morning and several probationers were read into full membership at night. Rev. Sparks preached on "Baptism" in the morning and at night his theme was "The Impetuous Christ." The General Association of Colored Baptists are in session this week in Bloomington, Ind. The messengers from here are Rev. Hammond and Harry Wade. The messengers to the women's Baptist convention are Mrs. Sarah Cabell, Mrs. Anna Washington, Mrs. Alice Bragg and Mrs. Hammond. Miss Georgia Williams of Louisville, Ky., is visiting in our city the guest of her cousin, Mrs. M. C. Bragg. Mrs. George Robinson is attending the district conference of the M. E. Church, colored, at Princeton, Ind., this week. She will visit Evansville, Rockport and other places before returning to our city. The Church of Christ and Saints of God are having a series of meetings this week. A distinguished revivalist is assisting the Rev. Lewis, pastor of the above named church. Troy Russell has been quite sick, but at this writing he is convalescing. There will be a musical play, "Red Riding Hood," and flag drill at Sauter's Chapel, 13th and Franklin streets, Thursday evening, Aug. 13, 1914, at 8 o'clock sharp, given by Miss Bethe's club.

IN THE WORLD OF SPORT

Art Fletcher; Giants' Short-stop, Going Great Guns.

Arthur Fletcher, who plays the short-field for McGraw's Giants, is rapidly taking Hans Wagner's place as the leading man in his position in the National league. Several years ago McGraw was severely criticised for keeping Fletcher in the game, but he persevered, and the result has certainly justified the means. Art is credited with the greatest pair of hands in the game, and once he gets them on the ball it's all over.

Lacrosse Is Exciting Game.

What is the matter with lacrosse? It is speedy and exciting from the spectators' viewpoint, and it is not difficult to gain a knowledge of the fine points of the game. Critics of the sport have alleged that it is brutal; but, while minor injuries are more or less frequent, the record of lacrosse in regard to serious accidents and fatalities is much cleaner than that of baseball, boxing, football or almost any other strenuous sport. Professionalism is charged by some Canadian critics with responsibility for the decline of the game, but baseball, soccer, hockey and other sports have survived and flourished under a professional regime. The facts of the matter seem to be that lacrosse has everything a game should have to enlist popular support except publicity. If the newspapers took up lacrosse it would soon become popular.

Braves' Poor Percentage Explained.

The mystery of the poor percentage so far achieved by the Boston Braves has been explained at last. Most of the critics had expected that club with Stallings for teacher and Evers for agitator to accomplish wonders and cannot understand why it has fallen down. It's easily understood, however, according to Lee Magee of St. Louis. "Everybody expected to see a lot of inside ball displayed by that club," says Magee. "Well, the inside ball is there all right, but it's so far inside that they can't get it out in time."

Dave Robertson a Veteran.

Dave Robertson, the outfield find of the season, who is hitting like a fiend for the New York Giants at present, is not, as many fans suppose, a meteoric arrival in the baseball firmament, but has been nursed along for the past three years by McGraw. Davy was first picked up by the Giants as a pitcher, but a football accident in college spoiled his pitching wing, and Muggsy had to make him over into a fielder. Robertson was the swatting sensation of the Southern association last year.

Mack Has Indian Battery.

Connie Mack has an Indian battery in the incubator. If he ever gets to spring it he will have a battery unique in the majors, as the Indians are brothers. Connie's young redskins are John and Joe Graves. Joe, eighteen, is a pitcher; John, twenty, is a catcher. They are fellow tribesmen of Chief Bender. The Graves brothers played ball on the reservation and later at Flandrau school. Joe attracted Mack's attention while pitching for Brainerd, Minn., where Joe Bush got his start.

Smith's Boat Tops Record.

The closing day's racing of the seventh annual Mississippi Valley association saw Baby Speed Demon, owned by A. C. Smith of Algonac, Mich., equal and outdo the American records set up by Kitty Hawk VI, owned by H. B. Timken, Canton, O. The four miles, two up and two down stream, were traveled at an average speed of 53.54 miles an hour. Her fastest lap averaged 54.54 miles an hour.

Say Moha Stalled.

The boxing commission of Montana has taken action regarding boxers who "stall" in bouts. The commission held up the receipts of the recent Dillon-Moha contest on the ground that Moha did not do his best. It is hard to believe that Bob would be guilty of deliberately trying to "stall," for in nearly all his battles he has worked hard.

VINCENNES.

The Second Baptist church held a basket meeting eight miles up the Wabash river Sunday. The hay ride to French Town last Thursday night, given under the auspices of the stewardesses board, No. 2, of Bethel church, was a success. The fourth and last quarterly meeting for the year ending Sept. 22, 1914, was held at Bethel A. M. E. church Sunday, Aug. 2, by the Rev. Morris Lewis, P. E. The meeting was a spiritual and financial success. The quarterly conference on Monday night can be truthfully said to be the best held in Bethel for many years past, and as the members of the quarterly conference knew that this would be their last opportunity to express their gratitude to their pastor and wife, Rev. and Mrs. L. W. Ratliffe, for the good work done by them this year, every member was present to speak for himself, so the conference passed a resolution commending the work of the pastor and presiding elder and petitioned the bishop through the presiding elder for the return of Rev. Ratliffe to the Vincennes charge for another year, and Rev. Morris Lewis as presiding elder to the Evansville district for another year. The home chautauqua, under the leadership of Mrs. G. A. Ratliffe and Mrs. J. J. Calvert will open Aug. 10 and the committee of arrangement has promised us a variety of attractions during the week. Bishop B. F. Lee, D. D., L. L. D., of Wilberforce, Ohio, notified the pastor, Rev. Ratliffe, last week, that he would visit Vincennes Sunday, Aug. 9, and preach for him Sunday morning and night. The occasion will be a grand rally for the trustee department of the church. Are you coming to the chautauqua Aug. 10.

FORT WAYNE, IND.

There will be a joint picnic of the A. M. E. and Baptist Sunday schools at Sweeney Park Aug. 12, 1914. There will be refreshments, races of different kinds for both old and young people. We wish to make this a successful one and hope to have a nice time and crowd. Committee, Mrs. Mary Lacklan, Miss Kathleen Smith, Mrs. Langhorn, Jackson, Rolland, Shepard and J. B. Smith and Mrs. Rev. Saunders. Mrs. Dickerson entertained at a delightful dinner in honor of Mrs. Braggs. Miss Leah Bass of Circleville, Ohio, is still in the city visiting her cousin, Miss Kathleen Smith, 321 Holman street. Mr. H. Powell is also in the city, visiting his mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Smith.

FRANKLIN, IND.

Miss Louisa Smalls has returned from Turkey Lake. Miss Edna Clark spent Sunday in the city, the guest of friends. Mrs. Lizzie Hays and daughters, Rosa and Myrtle, were in Indianapolis Tuesday for the purpose of constituting a specialist. Now, Ada Stevenson spent Thursday in the city, the guest of Mrs. Tyree. Mrs. Carrie Clay and Mrs. Hattie Daugherty left Monday morning for Marion to attend the grand lodge of the Household of Ruth and U. O. of O. F., which is in session this week at that place. Miss Marie Moore left Sunday for Watson to visit her sister, Mrs. Wm. Batty, and husband. Mrs. Batty was formerly Miss Catherine Moore. Mrs. Thomas Fossett of Muncie visited with her husband Saturday at the home of his parents. Mrs. Anna Cain of Greenwood visited Mrs. Hattie Daugherty Sunday morning. George Harnett and daughter, Miss Arissa, attended the gala day in Shelbyville. Mrs. H. C. Williams attended the grand session of the C. of C. last Thursday morning. Misses Fannie Gains, Carrie Duncan and Amanda Gains were in Shelbyville Thursday morning. Miss Dorothy Golden, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Myrtle Haygood in Indianapolis for the past week, returned home Sunday. Rev. Gore filled the pulpit Sunday in the Baptist church. Mr. and Mrs. Steven Madison, and their daughters, Gladys and Hazel, left on Sunday for a visit in Matson. Mr. Madison returned Sunday night, but Mrs. Madison and children will be gone about two weeks. Mrs. Katie Wales and Mrs. Harry Bell left for Bloomington Thursday morning for the Baptist Association. They will represent the local church here. Rev. McCall was here Tuesday night on business for the church. Harry Bell and Mrs. Stella Jackson left on Wednesday morning for Louisville, Ky., to attend the funeral of Mr. Bell's brother-in-law. Miss Bessie Evans was in Columbus Monday on business. Markus Blakemore of Anderson and Hassel Robinson of Indianapolis passed through Franklin Monday night on their motorcycle, from Bloomington, where Mr. Blakemore has completed the wiring of the new Baptist church. Samuel Bettiford of Indianapolis was the guest of Mrs. Ida Goodpaster Sunday.

For Judge of the Appellate Court

State Republican Convention Nominates Jurist of Wide Distinction for Honor

JUDGE CHIPMAN FRIEND OF NEGROES

Judge Marcellus A. Chipman, ex-judge of the fifth judicial circuit of Indiana, was born in Hamilton county, Indiana, September 27, 1852. He is the son of DeWitt C. Chipman and Cassandra Chipman. His boyhood days were spent in and about Noblesville, in Hamilton county, the family moving to Anderson, Madison county, in 1870.

Choosing for his life work the law, he entered the Indiana State University and graduated from the law department in 1873, and was admitted to practice the same year, opening an office in the city of Anderson, where he has since resided.

On June 22, 1875, he was married to Miss Belle Buskirk, of Paoli, Ind. Being of a judicial turn of mind, and being a careful painstaking pleader, he soon gained the confidence of the courts and the respect of every member of the bar, and when the legislature of 1889 made a separate circuit of Madison county, Governor Alvin P. Hovey appointed him judge of the circuit court, which appointment met with the hearty approval of every member of the Madison county bar.

JUDGE MARCELLUS A. CHIPMAN

At the next general election he was nominated by the Republican party as its candidate for judge, but was defeated with the rest of the ticket, the county at that time being overwhelmingly Democratic. His many friends point with pride to the fact that, while judge of the Madison circuit court, he rendered over twelve hundred decisions, only two of which were reversed.

When the legislature of 190 created a codification commission Governor Winfield T. Durbin appointed him, with Judge Timothy T. Howard, of South Bend, as members of the commission. By the act creating this commission, the Secretary of State, Daniel E. Storms, became ex-officio a member thereof. The commission organized by making Judge Chipman its chairman. This commission reported to the legislature of 1905, proposed bills on private corporations, eminent domain, municipal corporations, highways, drainage and public offenses, all of which became laws except the bill on private corporations.

Judge Chipman has always been identified with the Republican party, and for many years has been prominent in its ranks, but has never sought political preferment except when nominated for judge of the Madison circuit court in 1890.

His public career has been one of marked ability, and his private and home life ideal, and he is justly regarded as one of the strong men of the State. His ability as a lawyer and his lovable character made him a unanimous choice of the delegates from the Eighth congressional district, in the late Republican State convention, as one of the candidates for judge of the Appellate Court.

In 1894 he was elected grandmaster of the grand lodge of Odd Fellows of Indiana, and for twelve years has been elected and is now serving as grand trustee of the grand lodge of Odd Fellows.

FOR THE CHILDREN

The Skill of a Mouse.

One day a naturalist lay motionless on a fallen log in the forest and silently watched an animal at play in the grass near by, says Our Animal Friends. This was a large brown backed mouse, a meadow mouse, that had come out from his home under the log and, when tired of play, had sat up to make his toilet. Satisfied at length with his appearance, he began to search for food.

He did not have far to go, for a few stalks of wheat grew among the thick weeds near at hand. The mouse was so large that he could probably have bent the stalk down and brought the grain within reach. If not, he could certainly have climbed the stalk. He did not try either of these plans, however, for these were not his ways. Sitting up very straight, he bit through the stalk as high as he could reach.

The weeds were so thick that the straw could not fall its full length, and the freshly cut end settled down upon the ground, with the straw still erect and the grain out of reach. The mouse again bit the straw in two, and again the upper portion settled down. In this way he bit off five lengths of straw before he could bring the grain within reach of his paws. These forepaws were very skillful little hands, and he deftly husked a grain and ate it, sitting erect and holding it to his mouth as naturally as a boy would hold an apple.

Boy Scout Merit Badges.

Considerable changes in a number of merit badge requirements have been made by a committee at national headquarters. Those for life saving are:

First.—Go down from the surface of the water at least seven feet deep and bring up an object twelve inches or more in diameter, weighing not less than ten pounds.

Second.—Swim twenty yards, carrying a person of your own weight:

(a) By a two hand carry, using feet only for propulsion.

(b) By a one arm carry, using side stroke.

Third.—Dressed in trousers, coat and shoes swim fifty yards, and undress before reaching shore.

Fourth.—In deep water, demonstrate three approved methods of releasing death grip.

Fifth.—Demonstrate Schaefer (prone pressure) method of resuscitation.

The Dishonest Baker.

A baker who bought his butter in pound rolls from a farmer, noticing that the rolls looked rather small, weighed them and found that they were all under a pound in weight. Therefore he had the farmer up before a magistrate.

"These butter rolls," said the judge, "are certainly short weight. Have you any scales?"

"I have," answered the farmer.

"And have you any weights?"

"No, sir."

"Then how can you weigh your butter?" demanded the magistrate sternly.

"That's very simple," said the farmer. "While I've been selling butter to the baker I've been buying pound loaves from him, and I've used them as weights on my scales."

The baker said he would drop the case right there.

Oil in Mid-ocean.

Six square miles of raw petroleum in the middle of the Atlantic ocean! The British tank steamer Batoum once encountered this singular field in mid-ocean, and at first the captain could not account for it. Then he came to the conclusion that the oil was the cargo of an oil vessel which had foundered. He kept his ship in that vicinity for an entire day in the hope of finding some pieces of wreckage by which to identify the unfortunate craft, but not a trace of human life or wreckage could be found. It seems impossible that the vessel could have been burned and left the oil floating, and there were no rocks upon which it could strike. In fact, there is no solution to the mystery. Like so many others of the sea, it may remain unsolved forever.

Ages of European Rulers.

Among European monarchs King George of England is younger than the emperor of Austria, the kings of Roumania, Montenegro, Servia, Wurttemberg, Bavaria, Sweden, the German emperor and the king of Saxony, who is nine days older than he.

Those who are younger than the English king are seven in number—the kings of Italy, Denmark and Norway, the king of the Belgians, Queen Wilhelmina of Holland and the king of Spain.

EGG LAYING CONTEST.

Rich Prizes to Be Given at Panama-Pacific Exposition.

[By I. D. Graham, assistant chief, department of live stock.]

One of the chief features of the great poultry show to be held in connection with the Panama-Pacific international exposition, as planned by Mr. D. O. Lively, chief of the department of live stock, will be the international egg laying contest, which will begin the 1st of November, 1914, and continue for twelve full months. This contest will be conducted by the department of live stock and under the supervision of the poultry division of the College of Agriculture of the University of

I. D. GRAHAM.

California, thus giving it the most expert supervision as well as placing it under recognized authority.

The contesting pens will each be composed of ten females of the same variety in which the birds must be at least eight months old, and not more than eleven months old at the opening day of the contest. The competition will be open to the world, and all birds will be housed and fed alike. Diseased birds will not be received.

Prizes will be awarded on performance, and the total number of marketable eggs produced by each pen will be the basis of award. The owner of the pen making the highest annual egg record will receive a trophy and $75 in gold. The second prize will be a trophy and $50 in gold, the third a trophy and $25 in gold, and the fourth prize $10 in gold. The leading pen in each variety will be awarded a gold medal and $10 in gold. The owner of the hen making the highest individual record will be awarded a trophy and $15 in gold, second prize $10 and third $5. The owner of each hen making a record of over 200 eggs will be awarded an exposition trophy. Trophies will be awarded each month to the pen making the highest record for that month. Not less than three pens must be shown in order that a variety may be represented in the contest in competition for special variety prizes. In case there are less than three entries in any one variety pens may compete in other classes where eligible.

All entries will be booked in the order in which they are received, and all entries will close on Oct. 14, 1914. All pens will be numbered and the records credited to those numbers.

RAISING PIGEONS.

Overcrowded Lofts a Danger to Be Guarded Against.

Every loft should have a double floor. Single floors are apt to be damp and, consequently, emit bad odors.

Although pigeons are supposed to represent purity and gentleness, it is the experience of the keepers of pigeons that they can be and are pugnacious in the extreme during the breeding months, says the Farm Journal.

Opportunity should be given them to bathe as often as they desire. This luxury they will avail themselves of daily.

With the increase of the denseness of the loft, through the young birds that have been added to the stock during the breeding season, many lofts are overcrowded. This is especially the case where young fanciers commenced the season with more old birds than their accommodations warranted.

Barren results are generally experienced where too much is attempted. If too many birds are kept in one compartment, a greater number of infertile eggs may be anticipated, as when old birds have to fight for their quarters it is impossible for matters to go on comfortably.

Where practical, the young birds should have a loft to themselves, and great care and attention should be exercised in feeding and cleanliness, and a sharp lookout kept for vermin.

In the case of young, the different sexes may be permitted to run together, as they will not attempt to mate up.

Feeding the Chicks.

Do not depend on too much mash food for your growing chicks. Give the growing and developing gizzards something to do, some grit to grind, or they will not develop as they should.

THE POULTRYMAN.

Now that the laying season is over, the hens are commencing to molt and are therefore in an abnormal condition. They need good attention and the best of feed during this period.

Some of the causes of roup are sudden and extreme changes in temperature, damp houses and drafts.

After the fowls begin to molt they should be given ground bone once every day and a meal of meat at least three times a week.

The up to date fancier these days examines his growing flock of chicks very carefully, so that by selection and elimination he may keep that which is best and discard that which is poorest from his flock.

Keep fine charcoal and grit where chicks may have free access to it.

DISINFECTANT FOR POULTRY QUARTERS

[Prepared by dairy division, United States department of agriculture.]

The first consideration in obtaining a disinfectant for poultry quarters should be effectiveness. It isn't good economy to buy a disinfectant for the simple reason that it is cheap. Poultrymen can mix their own disinfectants. They can do it more cheaply than buying ready mixed commercial disinfectants, and they are quite as effective. The cresol solution is one of the best of these.

Cresol may be obtained through druggists, and in buying it should be specified as "commercial cresol." This may be placed directly with water and used as a spray, but as it is not very soluble it is better to make use of what is known as "compound solution of cresol," which in turn is diluted by water. The government's proportions are as follows:

First put four quarts of raw linseed oil in a four or five gallon stone crock; then weigh out in a dish one and two-thirds pounds of commercial caustic potash, which may be obtained from any druggist at 10 or 15 cents a pound. Dissolve this potash in a pint of water, and add the cold potash solution very slowly to the linseed oil, stirring con-

Too little care is given fowls in the matter of providing pure, clean drinking water. It should be remembered that the principal part of the egg as well as of the fowl itself is water. Pure fresh water, then, is of vital importance. The illustration shows a homemade water fountain that answers every demand. It is made of a cheese box, with the bottom removed and slats arranged as shown in the illustration. The arrangement is then set over a gallon crock sunk in the earth.

standly. Not less than five minutes should be taken to the adding of this solution of potash to the oil.

For five hours after mixing the cold potash solution should be stirred thoroughly every hour, and then it should be left standing ten or twelve hours. By the expiration of that time saponification should be complete. This soap should then be stirred, and five and one-fourth quarts of commercial cresol should be added. The soap will slowly dissolve in this cresol. It may take two days for a complete solution to be effected. When the soap is all dissolved the solution is ready for use. This cresol will mix in any proportion of water and will make a clear solution.

ONE MILLION DOLLAR INDIANA AUTO SHOW---GREAT EXPOSITION OF 1915
MODELS WILL BE SEEN AT INDIANA STATE FAIR WEEK OF SEPTEMBER 7.

The greatest automobile show to be seen on an American fair ground this year will be one of the dominating features of the Indiana State Fair the week of Sept. 7. The show is being organized by the Indianapolis Automobile Trade Association, and it will be a very elaborate exhibit of 1915 cars by the leading factories of the country, the models at the Indiana fair to be shown later in the big winter shows. The auto show will occupy a tent 150 feet wide and 325 feet long, giving an exhibition space, exclusive of the broad aisles, of 20,300 square feet. The big tent will be lavishly decorated and there will be strong competition among the exhibitors to make the best individual displays. The tent will be immediately south of the brick horse barn and will be the largest canvas ever set up on the Indiana fair grounds.

The auto exposition, because of the great demand for space, will be confined to motor cars and accessories, but they will be the "last word" in automobiles, giving the newest refinements and improvements that manufacturers have to offer for 1915. There will be no extra admission fee to the auto show. Musical programs and many entertaining features will be given daily, but the chief worth of the show will be its educational value to present and prospective owners of cars.

Reliable Local Merchants That It Will Pay You to Patronize

The quantities given in the foregoing directions may be increased or lessened in accordance with your requirements, but one should be careful to maintain the proportions given. To disinfect the interior of poultry houses, incubators, brooders, etc., a 2 per cent solution of this cresol mixture will be found very satisfactory both for general disinfecting and for cleaning out vermin. This would mean one gallon of cresol solution to fifty gallons of water, or three or four teaspoonfuls of cresol solution to a gallon of water would be about right.

Keep Chickens Growing. As your chickens grow old remember that they need more feed. The amount required to produce a pound of gain increases as the birds grow older. Increase the amount of feed each week so that they will have enough. If you go around the last thing before dark with a pail of feed throw a little in each coop, and you will soon know whether or not they have had enough.

Range Good For Fowls. Hens will get a good deal of their food in the fields if they have a chance, but try them with a bit more every morning and night. A bit too much is better than hunger. Growing chicks need an all round diet. Chicks require about the same food as full grown hens do, only less of it.

Finds Cure for Epilepsy After Years of Suffering

"My daughter was afflicted with epileptic fits for three years, the attacks coming every few weeks. We employed several doctors but they did her no good. About a year ago we heard of Dr. Miles' Nervine, and it certainly has proved a blessing to our little girl. She is now apparently cured and is enjoying the best of health. It is over a year since she has had a fit. We cannot speak too highly of Dr. Miles' Nervine.

MRS. FRANK ANDERSON,
Comfrey, Minn.

Thousands of children in the United States who are suffering from attacks of epilepsy are a burden and sorrow to their parents, who would give anything to restore health to the sufferers.

Dr. Miles' Nervine

is one of the best remedies known for this affliction. It has proven beneficial in thousands of cases and those who have used it have the greatest faith in it. It is not a "cure-all," but a reliable remedy for nervous diseases. You need not hesitate to give it a trial.
